September 1, 2011

Please support the Environmental Education Alliance of Georgia (EEA) by donating an item for our silent auction! EEA is a 501(c) 3 organization that promotes a culture of environmental literacy and stewardship by providing partnerships, communication, and enrichment amongst professionals in the field of environmental education.

Proceeds from the silent auction will fund scholarships for educators to attend EEA's annual conference. The conference is a forum where participants receive hands-on training, resources and ideas, as well as network with other formal and non-formal environmental educators. The theme for the 2012 conference where the silent auction will take place is “The Art and Science of Environmental Education”. We hope to encourage educators to use creativity and the arts to enrich the scientific content of their lessons. It is EEA's hope that by empowering our educators with tools and skills through professional development, we will increase our student's awareness and knowledge of environmental topics.

Appropriate donations may include gift certificates for merchandise or services, books and other resources, and any items related to outdoor education or recreation. In keeping with the conference theme, we would also greatly appreciate any item that promotes the visual or performing arts, such as supplies and materials, gift certificates for lessons, and tickets to musical or theater events.

Please fill out the attached form and send it along with your donation to the provided address so that it is received by March 16, 2012. Donations to EEA are tax deductible and a letter will be provided to all donors.

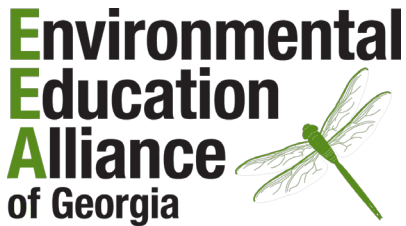

Thank you so much for your support!
